It is necessary when applying for job vacancies or evaluating a job offer that you have an understanding of the annual salary or average hourly pay rate that you could expect to receive in the position you are applying for.

One website which could assist you with this is PayScale Human Capital. The data on the PayScale website is from individuals working in the specific positions who complete the PayScale online employee salary survey.

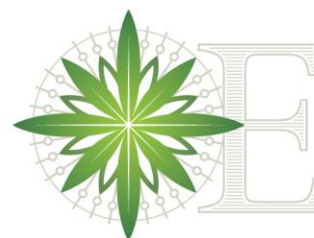

It is worthwhile to note the data does not take into consideration what their current educational qualifications are.

Access the PayScale information on the following careers:

- Acupuncturist
- Massage Therapist
- Naturopath
- Nutritionist

It is important that this information is used as a guide only.

Access the job application resources available on the Careers Service website to assist you in applying for suitable employment opportunities.
